Mecklenburg Co., Charlotte Observer, 13 May 2003, Obituary of Fannie Gregory Bradley Blackwelder [#588952/1] {12662}

“ Fannie Gregory Bradley Blackwelder, 92, of Charlotte, NC, died Sunday, May 11, 2003 at the home of her daughter and son-in-law Louise and Claude Sanford. Mrs. Blackwelder had lived in Southminster Retirement Community for the last fifteen years.

A daughter of the late Rev. Edward Pascal Bradley and Fannie Hogan Gregory Bradley, Mrs. Blackwelder was born November 14, 1910 in Mocksville, NC. She graduated from Queens College with an AB degree in Literature and History in 1933 and received an AB in Library Science from UNC-CH in 1934. She taught school and worked in high school libraries in Amelia, VA and Rock Hill, SC until her marriage in 1939. Her husband, Paul, was a dairyman and owner of Twin Brook Farm in Mocksville, NC, until his death in 1961.

Mrs. Blackwelder served as head librarian of the Davie County Library from 1959 until 1966, where she was instrumental in building the library's collection. She spearheaded the campaign for a new building, which was completed in 1964. In 1967 she moved to Charlotte to become the Coordinator of Children's Services at the Public Library of Mecklenburg County where she served until her retirement in 1976.

Mrs. Blackwelder was involved in her church and civic activities. She served as an Elder at Trinity Presbyterian Church, reorganized the Trinity Church Library, and taught Sunday School. She served on the Mecklenburg County Literacy Council and in 1978 opened Black Forest Books and Toys with her daughter Louise. She moved to Southminster in 1987 and became very active in the life of the Southminster community, serving on various committees and working to organize the Southminster library.

She always found time to spend with her granddaughters, playing an active role in their lives whether it be making play dough with a preschooler or providing a listening ear for a teenager's woes. She enjoyed the company of her great-grandchildren; reading a story, watering flowers, or sharing a snack together.

Throughout her entire life, books and knowledge were a constant theme. She particularly enjoyed bringing children and books together. She believed books help a child to establish their values and to decide which values are important in their lives. It was always important to her that children be exposed to the best quality of children's literature because as she always said "You watch the food your child eats, why not watch what they read? You wouldn't feed them just cake and ice cream. They need the meat and potatoes too!".

Mrs. Blackwelder was predeceased by her husband Paul and daughter Frances age 2 1/2. She is survived by her daughter, Louise Blackwelder Sanford and husband Claude William Sanford of Charlotte, NC; granddaughters Frances Leigh Sanford of Charlotte and Cathie Sanford Ghorbani, husband Hossein, and great-grandchildren Lily Catherine and Cyrus Abraham Ghorbani of Lexington, MA; niece Jane Kuykendall of Atlanta, GA; nephew Dr. George Kuykendall and wife Joyce of Haddonfield, NJ.

The family of Mrs. Blackwelder is grateful for the gentle attention of her caregivers, the supportive services of Hospice, and the personal care of her physician.

A memorial service to celebrate Fannie Blackwelder's life will be held at Trinity Presbyterian Church on Wednesday, May 14, 2003 at 11:00 AM. The family will receive friends in the church parlor following the service. Burial will be in Rose Cemetery in Mocksville, NC. at 4:30 PM. Dr. Richard Newsome will officiate.
