Barrie Bascom Blackwelder, Sr. [#554133], twenty-eighth mayor of Hickory, began the practice of law in Hickory shortly after receiving his degree at the law school of the University of North Carolina (Chapel Hill). From 1915 to 1917 he served, by an appointment, as judge of the Hickory Municipal Court, and in 1917 he became a government appeals agent. He served a year during 1918 as captain in the Army Service Corps.

In 1919, he started work for Shuford Mills, Inc., and was elected vice president of the Granite Falls Manufacturing Company. In 1921 he was made an executive of the entire Shuford Mills group, and in 1932, following the death of A. Alex Shuford, Sr., he was selected to head the group.

In 1941, he organized the Quaker Meadows Mills, which he served as head until 1949, when he became chairman of the board.

Blackwelder, in addition to his term as mayor, served as a member of the State Banking Commission and as State Senator for the Twenty-Fifth District.

He was a director of the Hickory Chamber of Commerce, and served as its president in 1940. He served as president of the Rotary Club in 1948-49. He was a director and member of the executive committee of the North Carolina School for the Deaf at Morganton and director of the Catawba County Fair Association. He served in several different advisory capacities on the state and national levels.

He was a long-time member of Corinth Evangelical and Reformed Church, serving as a Sunday School teacher, a member of the board of deacons and as an elder of the church.

Will of D. M. Booe

I D. M. Booe, Do make this as my last will to my wife Cora M. Booe that she may have all of my property both real and personal to own and control in any way that she wants at my death.
This will be found when I am dead and gone from this world.

D. M. Booe - signed and sealed

This Sept. 23, 1907

A paper writing without subscribing witnesses and which is hereto attached and dated September 23, 1907 supposing to be the Last Will and Testament of D. M. Booe deceased is exhibited for probate in open court by Cora M. Booe, the devisee and legatee therein named and it is thereupon proved by the Oath of and examination of Cora M. Booe, H. H. Blackwelder [#5889], A. L. Chaffin and John A. Blackwelder [#58891]; that the said will was found among the valuable papers and effects of the said D. M. Booe after his death and it is further found by the Oath and examination of three competent and creditable witnesses, to wit: H. H. Blackwelder, A. L. Chaffin and John A. Blackwelder that they are aquatinted with the handwriting of the said D. M. Booe, having often seen him write and verily believe that the name of said D. M. Booe subscribed to said will and the said will itself and every part thereof is in the handwriting of the said D. M. Booe and it is proved by the witnesses of the last three mentioned that the said handwriting is generally known to the acquaintances of the said D. M. Booe and to said witnesses. Forsyth Co., Winston-Salem, Winston-Salem Journal, 13 Oct 2004, Obituary of Vida Jon Blackwelder [#52BA221/1] {16691}

"Mrs. Vida Jon Blackwelder, 91, of 1280 Chester Road, Winston-Salem, died Monday, Oct. 11, 2004, at Forsyth Medical Center. Mrs. Blackwelder was born in Fort Lauderdale, Fla., on April 29, 1913, to L.S. Stroupe and Essie Bridges Stroupe. She was preceded in death by her husband, John "Pete" A. Blackwelder; a grandchild, John B. Talbert Jr.; two brothers; five sisters; and many wonderful friends. She is survived by her four children, Martha Hix and husband William T. Hix of Winston-Salem, Judy Talbert and husband John B. Talbert of Wrightsville Beach, Jane Homesley and husband Dr. Howard D. Homesley of Greenville and John Blackwelder of Winston-Salem; six grandchildren, Daniel S. Talbert of San Francisco, John P. Talbert and wife Alison of Wilmington, Martha Siceloff and husband Dr. Eric Siceloff of Winston-Salem, Jonnie Sharp and husband Robert of San Francisco, Dr. David Homesley and wife Natalie of Charlotte and John C. Homesley and wife Alana of Los Angeles; and seven great-grandchildren, John Patrick and Sarah Elizabeth Talbert, Alexandra Reece Siceloff, Jack Edward and Alex David Homesley and Vida Katherine and Jacob Robert Lloyd Sharp. Vida Jon Blackwelder was always a very active leader in her community. She was elected vice president of the 1930 class at Cherryville High School. She later volunteered to head the first citywide cancer-fund drive. She volunteered many hours to help raise money to purchase Cherryville High School band uniforms, and was an officer in the PTA. After her children were grown, Mrs. Blackwelder worked for Stroupe Florist in Cherryville for more than 25 years. Following retirement, she spent most of her time pursuing her love of working in her flower gardens. Her devotion to family, love for her community and pride in all she pursued was most evident to those who knew VJ, as she was known by many of her friends. She always left any place she lived more beautiful than she found it. Mrs. Blackwelder requested that all memorials be sent to the First Presbyterian Church, 107 Academy St., Cherryville, NC 28021, where she was a devoted lifelong member, and remained so even after moving to Winston-Salem more than 20 years ago to be near her family. A graveside service will be held at 11 .m. Thursday, Oct. 14, at the City Memorial Cemetery, with the Rev. Dr. Billy Lowe officiating. The family will receive friends after the service. Carpenter's Funeral Home in Cherryville is serving the Blackwelder family."

"Rowan residents ask Darrell Blackwelder [#52B26652] about everything from plants to writing"
BY KATHY CHAFFIN, SALISBURY POST

"Darrell Blackwelder, interim director of the local Cooperative Extension office, learned his strong work ethic from his parents.
. . . as part of his job as horticultural and forestry . . . 47-year-old Darrell . . .
He had just graduated from Clemson University with a bachelor's degree in agricultural education with an emphasis in horticulture when he went to work as a high school agriculture teacher in the Marlboro County Schools in Bennettsville, S.C.
. . . Darrell went back to Clemson, earning his master's in agricultural education with an emphasis in horticulture in 1979. He accepted a job with the Rowan County Cooperative Extension Service after graduation, working for seven years as the county's horticulture and 4-H agent. In June of 1986, the same year he married the former Gerrie Ward of Winston-Salem, Darrell left to work as a horticultural therapist at the Hefner VA Medical Center.
. . . In September of 1989, after being out of the business for four years, Darrell accepted a job as the horticulture extension agent in Davie County, also doing community resources, forestry and recycling. He commuted from his home on High Rock Lake for four years before returning to the Rowan extension service.
. . . Born in Rock Hill, S.C., Darrell Eugene Blackwelder was the second of Sarah and C.M. Blackwelder's three children, and their only son. His father was a maintenance mechanic in a fiber plant, and his mother was a weaver in a cotton mill.
. . . Darrell, who lives at Pebble Point on High Rock, said he inherited his strong work ethics from his parents. One thing he said they taught him is "if you always do the best you can, you will never fail. At least you tried."

Rowan Co., Salisbury Post, 6 Sep 2005, “Life is good out on the porch” {23456}

“If you happen to run into George Blackwelder [#5836A] at Jimmy's this morning, be sure to wish him a Happy Birthday.
Chances of him being up that early, however, are pretty slim.
Blackwelder celebrated his 99th birthday yesterday with friends and family at the home of a granddaughter.
There aren't many 99-year-olds who can boast that they still live in the house they were born in. Blackwelder can.
"People say, 'Where were you born, Mr. Blackwelder?' and I say, 'Where I'm living at.' "
Blackwelder has many memories of his homeplace.
He remembers walking from home to school at Kluttz and Menius School.
"It was a good mile," he says.
His teacher encouraged him to learn the 9 multiplication tables backwards.

He obeyed his teacher, and can still reel them off -- backwards.
 "I got applause," he says.
 The school only went through ninth grade.
 "I didn't graduate," Blackwelder quips. "I expired."
 Blackwelder's father died when he was 5, and his mother never remarried. It was up to the children to work to help support their mother.
 "The family raised cotton and they'd sell cotton to buy their school clothes," son Howard says.
 Blackwelder's parents were Sampson Timothy Blackwelder and Katherine Ludemy "Demy" Deal Blackwelder.
 He has an excellent memory for names -- his middle name is Anderson -- and he still remembers how good his momma's butter was.
 His family moved into the house on March 30, 1905, the day his older brother, Homer LeRoy Blackwelder, was born.
 "They moved in here that day and he was born that night," Blackwelder says.
 He also had a sister, Eva Benfield.
 His first job was working at a molasses mill.
 "We'd work 20 hours and sleep four," Blackwelder says.
 Son Glenn notes that some of those hours were spent possum hunting.

After working at the molasses mill, Blackwelder did some farming before going to work for Cannon Mills for 35 years -- half that time on first shift, half on third.
 "I had the best boss man," he says.
 Blackwelder cut wheat with a man named Willie Propst. Propst had a niece named Lala Cline. She would become Blackwelder's wife. They dated for a couple of years before marrying on Sept. 11, 1926. Blackwelder went to Concord about once every three weeks to see his girlfriend.
 "She was as nice a girl as ever was raised in Cabarrus county," he says. "I can hunt this world over and never find another Lala Cline."
 The Blackwelders had four children: Howard, Glenn, Frances Miller, and Robert, who died in 1994.
 Lala Blackwelder died nine days before her son.
 All four children were born at home. Blackwelder remembers Dr. Max Whicker's bill for each one: $25.
 Howard Blackwelder takes his dad to get a haircut about every three weeks. They always eat breakfast at Jimmy's.
 "Boy, they feed you good," Blackwelder says.
 He enjoys a hearty breakfast of eggs, grits, buttered toast and sausage.
 Miller brags that her dad has a good appetite and is easy to please when it comes to food.
 Blackwelder eats two good meals a day: a late, big breakfast, then supper.
 He likes any number of vegetables, Howard Blackwelder says.
 And, Blackwelder admits, "I got a sweet tooth."
 He definitely needed his sweet tooth for his party. His family served a big cake during the drop-in, along with lots of finger foods.
 Blackwelder looked forward to it, although he admitted, "I just ain't in love with a crowd as I used to be."
 Nowadays, he's content to sit out on his porch and watch the traffic go by."
